- 1) What do you know of your ministry's founder(s)? Focus on their motivations for starting the ministry. What did they dream about the future impact of their ministry? Research to discover what you do not know. Write out their story to preserve it for future generations of staff.
  - 2) Pick three words that best characterize the founder(s). How well do they apply to you and your team today? Is there a need to rekindle the spark that motivated those who went before you?
  - 3) List three words that you want people to use thirty years from now to describe you and your team. How well do those words apply to you right now? If some are still aspirational, what needs to happen for you and your team to live up them?
